

Nile charter

Luxor to Aswan · 25–30 January 2027
Private full charter, 14–16 guests

14–16 guests, mostly single occupancy

up to 21 persons needing a bed

target 18–20 cabins

3–4 h of group work every day on board

This document describes the river section in the detail an operator needs in order to quote: every leg, every stop, time ashore, and what happens on board in between. Where we state a distance or a duration, it is our working assumption, and we ask you to correct it with your own operating data for this vessel.

How to read the times

Times in bold are fixed by monument opening hours, by flights, or by the client, and we plan around them. Times in plain text are estimates and we expect them to move. We do not fix the hour of any event that depends on arrival in port. Please tell us where our assumptions are wrong rather than agreeing to them.

1. The route and its legs

Upstream, Luxor to Aswan. Distances below are approximate river distances and are given so you can see what we assumed. Please replace them with your own figures for this vessel.

| Leg              | Approx. distance | Our assumption              | What we need from you                                                         |
|------------------|------------------|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Luxor — Esna     | ~55 km           | 4–5.5 h                     | Your sailing time upstream                                                    |
| Esna lock | —                | 1 h transit+1–4 h queue | Typical January waiting time from your own records, and who pays the lock fee |
| Esna — Edfu      | ~60 km           | 5–6 h                       | Your sailing time                                                             |
| Edfu — Kom Ombo  | ~60 km           | 5–6 h                       | Your sailing time                                                             |
| Kom Ombo — Aswan | ~50 km           | 3.5–5 h                     | Your sailing time                                                             |
| Total     | ~225 km   | ~18–22 h under way   | Plus lock queue                                                               |

The single question that decides this itinerary

Is the vessel permitted to navigate after dark? Our plan is built so that the Esna lock is crossed while guests are at dinner or asleep. If the queue is six hours, the vessel simply reaches Edfu at 02:00 instead of 20:00 and nothing in the guest programme changes, because the Edfu visit is at 07:00 either way. If the vessel must moor at dusk, we will instead embark at Esna, above the lock, and the vessel transits the lock without guests. Please tell us which of the two applies, and whether an authorised embarkation quay exists at Esna.

2. Two options

Option A — preferred · 4 nights, plus 1 optional

Embarkation Luxor, 25 January, around 11:30. Night 1 moored in Luxor, no sailing. Night 2 at Edfu. Nights 3 and 4 in Aswan. Final disembarkation Aswan 29 January at 05:00, or, if we take the optional fifth night, 30 January in the morning.

Option B — 3 nights

Embarkation 26 January, in Luxor around 10:00 or in Esna around 11:00 depending on your answer on night navigation. Night 1 at Edfu, nights 2 and 3 in Aswan. Final disembarkation Aswan 29 January at 05:00. Please quote both options.

3. Day by day, Option A

| Day 1 • Sunday 25 January • Luxor                |                                                                                            |                                                                          |
|--------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| EMBARKATION • NO SAILING • NIGHT MOORED IN LUXOR |                                                                                            |                                                                          |
| TIME                                             | ON BOARD / ASHORE                                                                          | NOTES FOR THE OPERATOR                                                   |
| 11:30                                            | Group arrives at the quay from Luxor airport. Embarkation, cabin allocation, welcome drink | Please confirm the exact quay and the latest arrival time you can accept |
| 12:30                                            | Lunch on board — first included meal                                                | Please confirm this is included                                          |
| 14:00                                            | Safety briefing                                                                            | —                                                                        |
| 14:30–16:30                                      | Ashore: Karnak temple. Our own guide and transport                                         | No service required from you                                             |
| 17:15                                            | Return on board                                                                            | —                                                                        |
| 19:30                                            | Dinner on board                                                                            | —                                                                        |
| night                                            | Moored in Luxor. Vessel does not sail on Day 1                                      | Does a non-sailing night carry a reduced rate?                           |

Day 2 · Monday 26 January · Luxor → Esna lock → Edfu

WEST BANK ASHORE · DEPARTURE · ESNA LOCK · NIGHT MOORED AT EDFU

| TIME                | ON BOARD / ASHORE                                                                                              | NOTES FOR THE OPERATOR                                                                                                   |
|---------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 05:00               | Early breakfast on board, or breakfast boxes                                                                   | Not a standard Full Board meal. Please confirm and price                                                                 |
| 05:30               | Guests leave the vessel. West bank: Hatshepsut, Deir el-Medina, Colossi of Memnon. Our own guide and transport | Luggage stays in the cabins. No shore service required from you                                                          |
| 09:45–10:00         | Guests back on board                                                                                           | —                                                                                                                        |
| on readiness        | Departure. We do not fix an hour                                                                               | Please tell us realistically how soon after 10:00 you can cast off, given the quay, the queue to depart and the manifest |
| 11:00–14:00         | Working session 1 — 3 hours, under way. Coffee break in the middle                                             | See section 6. Exclusive use of the room required                                                                        |
| 14:15               | Lunch on board                                                                                                 | After the session, not during it                                                                                         |
| afternoon / evening | Esna lock                                                                                                      | Guests are told "afternoon or evening", with no hour. A long queue is expected and is not a problem for us               |
| 18:00 — late        | Arrival at Edfu. Dinner is served on the vessel's readiness, not on arrival                                    | Please confirm the galley can serve a late dinner if the lock delays us                                                  |
| night               | Moored at Edfu                                                                                                 | If the queue prevents reaching Edfu, where would you moor, and does the Day 3 morning still work?                        |

Day 3 • Tuesday 27 January • Edfu → Kom Ombo → Aswan

TWO SHORE STOPS • GALA DINNER ON ARRIVAL • NIGHT MOORED IN ASWAN

| TIME        | ON BOARD / ASHORE                                                                                                              | NOTES FOR THE OPERATOR                                                                                                                     |
|-------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 06:00       | Early coffee and pastries on board                                                                                             | Light service before the temple, not a full breakfast                                                                                      |
| 06:30–09:30 | Ashore: temple of Horus at Edfu. Quay to temple is 2–3 km each way                                                             | We require minibuses, NOT horse-drawn carriages. Please confirm whether this transfer is included in your package or arranged by us |
| 09:30       | Return, head count of the full group                                                                                           | Allow 20 minutes: 16 guests return in waves                                                                                                |
| 09:45–10:15 | Departure                                                                                                               | —                                                                                                                                          |
| 10:30       | Full breakfast on board                                                                                                        | Second breakfast service of the morning                                                                                                    |
| 11:00–14:00 | Working session 2 — 3 hours, under way                                                                                  | Same room, same conditions                                                                                                                 |
| 14:15       | Lunch on board                                                                                                                 | —                                                                                                                                          |
| 15:00–16:30 | Ashore: Kom Ombo, double temple and crocodile museum. Quay is beside the temple. 1.5 h at the site, about 2 h vessel to vessel | Please confirm mooring beside the temple and whether you handle the visit or we do                                                         |
| +30 min     | Departure after the last guest returns                                                                                         | —                                                                                                                                          |
| evening     | Passage to Aswan. Arrival late evening                                                                                         | Please give your realistic arrival window                                                                                                  |
| on arrival  | Gala dinner on board. Special menu, decoration, optional Nubian ensemble                                                | We do not fix the hour. See section 7. Where and when can performers board?                                                         |
| night       | Moored in Aswan                                                                                                                | Do you expect to moor alongside other vessels?                                                                                             |

Day 4 • Wednesday 28 January • Aswan

VESSEL STATIONARY ALL DAY • THE MOST IMPORTANT WORKING SESSION • PHILAE IN THE EVENING

| TIME        | ON BOARD / ASHORE                                                                                                             | NOTES FOR THE OPERATOR                                                                                                                                                      |
|-------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 07:00       | Breakfast on board                                                                                                            | —                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 08:00–12:00 | Working session 3 — up to 4 hours, vessel stationary. Two coffee breaks                                                | This is the session the client values most: no engine noise. Please confirm no bunkering, no maintenance and no engine running alongside the room during these hours |
| 12:30       | Lunch on board                                                                                                                | —                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 14:00–16:00 | Optional ashore: private felucca around Kitchener Island and the botanical garden, or free time in Aswan. Our own arrangement | Guests leave and return by tender or gangway. Please confirm access at your mooring                                                                                         |
| 16:30       | Guests leave for Philae: road to Shellal quay about 20 min, then motorboat 10 min                                             | Our own transport. Please confirm the road access point at your mooring                                                                                                     |
| evening     | Philae temple and sound and light session                                                                                     | Hours not yet fixed by the site                                                                                                                                             |
| 20:30–21:30 | Late dinner on board after the group returns                                                                           | Please confirm the galley can serve dinner at this hour                                                                                                              |
| night       | Moored in Aswan                                                                                                               | —                                                                                                                                                                           |

Day 5 • Thursday 29 January • Aswan

TWO SUB-OPTIONS, PLEASE PRICE BOTH

A1 — disembarkation on Day 5. Early breakfast on board at 04:30, final disembarkation with all luggage 05:00–05:30. Guests leave for Abu Simbel by road and do not return to the vessel. Charter ends. Please confirm the 04:30 breakfast is possible and whether it is included.

A2 — one extra night, our preference. Same early breakfast and departure at 05:30, but luggage and guests remain on board. The vessel stays moored in Aswan all day and the night of 29/30. Guests return from Abu Simbel around 16:00–17:00, change in their cabins, go ashore for a gala dinner at a hotel in the evening and return late. Final disembarkation 30 January in the morning, straight to Aswan airport. Please quote this fifth night as a moored night without sailing, and confirm late return access to the vessel around 23:00.

Why A2 matters to us

It removes the need to send 20 pieces of luggage to a hotel by a separate vehicle while the guests are 290 km away in the desert, and it removes a hotel check-in after an eight-hour road day. If your rate for a moored night is reasonable, this is the version we will take.

4. Shore stops, summarised

| Day    | Stop                                | Time ashore | Quay to site              | Arranged by  |
|--------|-------------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------|--------------|
| 25 Jan | Karnak, Luxor                       | 2 h         | road, our transport       | us           |
| 26 Jan | Hatshepsut, Deir el-Medina, Colossi | 4 h 15      | road, our transport       | us           |
| 27 Jan | Temple of Horus, Edfu               | 3 h         | 2–3 km, minibuses  | to be agreed |
| 27 Jan | Kom Ombo                            | 1 h 30      | beside the quay           | to be agreed |
| 28 Jan | Kitchener Island, optional          | 2 h         | felucca from the mooring  | us           |
| 28 Jan | Philae, Agilkia Island              | 3 h         | road 20 min + boat 10 min | us           |
| 29 Jan | Abu Simbel, by road                 | full day    | road, our transport       | us           |

The client has decided not to visit the temple at Esna. If we embark at Esna it is for the lock only, not for a visit.

5. Meals

| Day    | Service                                                                                               | Status                                                                          |
|--------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 25 Jan | Lunch 12:30, dinner 19:30                                                                             | Standard                                                                        |
| 26 Jan | Early breakfast or boxes 05:00 , coffee break during session, lunch 14:15, dinner on readiness | Breakfast and coffee break need confirming and pricing                   |
| 27 Jan | Early coffee 06:00, full breakfast 10:30, coffee break, lunch 14:15, gala dinner               | Two breakfast services; gala dinner is an event, not the included dinner |
| 28 Jan | Breakfast 07:00, two coffee breaks , lunch 12:30, late dinner 20:30–21:30               | Late service needs confirming                                            |
| 29 Jan | Early breakfast 04:30 . In sub-option A2, also lunch on board and a late return without dinner | Needs confirming                                                         |
| 30 Jan | In sub-option A2, early breakfast before the airport transfer                                         | Needs confirming                                                         |

Please also state: what your Full Board includes as the first and last meal; whether drinking water in cabins and for excursions is included; which beverages are included with lunch and dinner; whether own wine is permitted and at what corkage; the deadline for diets and allergies; and whether meals for our Egyptologist, facilitator and escorts are charged separately.

6. The working sessions

Three to four hours every day of the river section, for 18–20 people, both under way and at anchor. This is a contractual client requirement and the main reason this charter exists in this form. In full: a dedicated enclosed room, seating with backrests for 20, at least six sockets, air conditioning controlled in the room, and exclusive use during the agreed block with no cleaning, no table laying, no background music and no crew traffic, with service limited to one coffee break served and cleared in a single pass.

We ask for the deck plan, a seating layout for 20, photographs of the room empty and in daylight rather than set for dining, the position of the engine room relative to it, and whether normal conversation is possible there while under way.

7. Events on board

Gala dinner, evening of 27 January. Special menu, decoration, optionally a Nubian ensemble. We will not announce an hour to guests until the master gives us an arrival estimate, and we ask you not to promise one either. Please tell us what is charged in addition to the included dinner, where and when performers can board, and whether their meals are at our cost.

8. Mooring and access

---

- Exact quays for embarkation and disembarkation in Luxor and Aswan, and at Esna if that option applies.
- Whether you expect to moor alongside other vessels in Edfu and Aswan. We will warn our guests; we simply need to know.
- Road access at the Aswan mooring, since guests leave for Philae by car and return late.
- Late return access around 23:00 on 29 January in sub-option A2.
- Who pays port dues, the lock fee and any fuel surcharge, and whether a tug is required.

9. What we ask you to send back

---

1. Your own sailing times for the four legs, replacing our assumptions.
2. A direct yes or no on navigation after dark.
3. Typical Esna lock waiting time in January from your records, and whether the vessel can transit without guests.
4. Minimum paid charter period in nights, and a separate rate for a moored night.
5. Hull price for Option A, Option A2 and Option B, as a single price for the whole vessel.
6. Deck plan with cabin numbers, how many cabins you can sell in single occupancy, and where the crew sleeps.
7. The working room: plan, layout for 20, empty photographs, engine room position, noise under way.
8. Your price in two separate lines: vessel only, and vessel plus shore programme, stating exactly which guides, tickets and quay transfers are included.
9. What happens, and who pays, if the lock queue costs us a night.